Staying away from just glamorous workforce stories, the upcoming grand gala of the Vietnam HR Awards on November 27 at the Gem Center in Ho Chi Minh City will not only champion effective human resources (HR) strategies of businesses but also reveal innovative and practical perspectives. Bringing together around 500 HR professionals and business leaders, the awards serve as a connectivity playground in the HR and corporate governance realms.

The event will unveil untold success stories of industry pioneers in Vietnam and the region, featuring leading executives from local industry such as An Cuong, Phu Nhuan Jewelry JSC (PNJ), HSBC, and Talentnet, along with major players such as Facebook and SAP, promising to deliver a wide flow of useful information.

First hosted by the Talentnet Corporation and the Labor and Social Affairs newspaper in 2014, the bi-annual awards, together with forums, have connected prominent CEOs and HR directors across Vietnam and the region. This third holding is expected to foster strong engagement among the HR and business community in Vietnam as well as long-term commitments to workforce development and agility. Business and HR professional nationwide can register to join at www.vietnamhrawards.com.
